RELAZIONE DESCRITTIVA DEL PROGETTO

The bench whom i made derived from in-depth studies about the art of Gerrit Rietveld. This bench is actually a reference of this art, which not only upsets the classic concept of bench but it also makes it more playful and funnier, thanks to its colours and original shapes. The splits on the central marble circle let those who sit on it to browse and figure out. The bench is divided into polished blocks of marble: each block of marble has a different variety of colours (red, black, white, yellow, blue), chosen by recalling Rietveld. The assembly of the blocks is quite simple because they join together and they distribute the weight correctly and precisely.
